

UCLPartners Education Conference 2017

Education as a vehicle for change

Wednesday 6 December 2017

The Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists

PROGRAMME

Time	Title of session	Speaker(s)
8.45 – 9.30	Registration
Platform session I – Chaired by Mike Roberts
9.30 – 9.40	Welcome and introduction
9.40 – 10.10	Interprofessional education and collaborative practice – what works?	Richard Grey, Former Chair, Centre for the Advancement of Interprofessional Education (CAIPE) Linda Eyre, Registered Nurse, King's College, Florence Nightingale Faculty of Nursing and Midwifery
10.10 – 10.40	How can education prepare us for the changing NHS?	Professor Jane Dacre, President of the Royal College of Physicians
10.40 – 11.00	Performance	Matt Harvey, Performance Poet
11.00 – 11.30	Break
11.30 – 12.30	Workshop session
12.30 – 13.30	Lunch
Platform session II – Chaired by Lisa Bayliss-Pratt
13.30 – 14.00	What can we learn about clinical leadership from crisis situations?	Malik Ramadhan, Divisional Director, Emergency Care and Trauma Division, Royal London Hospital Lucy Morrissey, Divisional Manager, Emergency Care and Trauma Division, Royal London Hospital
14.00 – 15.00	Workshop session
15.00 – 15.20	Refreshments

Platform session III – Chaired by Tim Gluck

15.20 – 15.50	Engaging patients and staff using digital platforms	Julian Childs, Head of Digital Development &amp; Evaluation, Senior Research Fellow, Anna Freud Centre and UCL Kate Martin, Director, Common Room Consulting
15.50 – 16.20	Panel discussion	Faye Gishen, Academic Lead for Clinical and Professional Practice, UCL Katie Lidington Involvement Representative, North East London NHS Foundation Trust Lydia Lofton, Multi-Professional Lead for Simulation, UCLPartners and Lead Nurse for the SPRinT Programme, Royal Brompton Hospital Kathryn Tompsett, Specialty Trainee Doctor, Obstetrics and Gynaecology
16.20 – 16.35	Performance	Matt Harvey, Performance Poet
16.35 – 16.45	Prizes and close

WORKSHOPS

Workshop number	Title	Facilitator(s)	Room
1	Avoiding burnout - in search of joy at work	Dr Nav Chana, Chair, National Association of Primary Care Clare Simpson, Workforce Lead, National Association of Primary Care	TBC
2	How can education contribute to and develop the changing structures in health and social care?	Sonia Bussu, Researcher in Residence, Tower Hamlets Together Vanguard Mirza Lalani, Researcher in Residence, Tower Hamlets Together Vanguard	TBC
3	Getting to know you - the power of inter-professional patient focused education	Julie Andrews, Associate Medical Director, Whittington Health Deborah Clatworthy, Head of Nursing-Surgery and Cancer, Whittington Health Jana Kristienova, Assistant Director for Integrated Care Education, Whittington Health Ruth Law, Consultant in Integrated Geriatric Medicine, Whittington Health Theresa Renwick, Safeguarding Manager, Whittington Health	TBC
4	Using patient journeys in education to promote deep reflection	Caroline Fertleman, Consultant Paediatrician, Whittington Health Rosemeen Stevenson, Children's Safeguarding Lead, Whittington Health	TBC
5	Exploring what can be learned from the differences between social care education and health care education	Edd Carter, Senior Lecturer, Middlesex University Ali Rusbridge, Locality Manager, North East London, Skills for Care Michael Shamash, Freelance Social Policy Researcher and Chair of Involve@MDX, Middlesex University	TBC
6	How can the NHS integrate leadership development into core professional training?	Paul Ayo, Programme Manager, UCLPartners' Leadership Development Programme	TBC
7	How can you incorporate online learning and the simulated patient into teaching – a flipped learning approach	Anita Berlin, Professor of Primary Care Education and Head of Community-Based Medical Education, Barts Health Naomi Gostelow, Clinical Teaching Fellow, UCL	TBC

